DELAY SEARCH FOR MISSING EXPLORERS

Members of Amundsen Party At Base Do Not Favor Immediate Action

OSLO, May 29.—Continued fair weather in the polar zone and the knowledge that Captain Raold Amundsen expected to make more extensive observations at the pole than was at first believed, served to allay today the fears that have been expressed as to his safety.

Latest dispatches from Spitzbergen, were Amundsen and his companions hopped off on their daring aerial dash to the pole last Thursday stated that members of his base party did not favor starting any search for the missing explorer until at least two weeks have elapsed.

Amundsen's instructions, according to Lieutenant Horgon, a member of the party still at Spitzbergen, were, that if he were not heard from for fourteen days, the steamer Hobby was to go eastward and the steamer Farm westward along the ice barrier.

If a six weeks' search produced no result, the ships were to return on the presumption that Amundsen was directing his course to Cape Columbia, approximately 250 miles north of Greenland. These instructions indicated that Amundsen started out on his spectacular dash with the firm intention of making observations that would require considerable time.

MORAL WEAKLING MURDERS WOMAN

Body Found In Vacant Lot Near Home; Attacked, Bound, Gagged

NEW YORK, May 29.—Brutally attacked and murdered the body of Miss Florence Kane, 24, of Brooklyn, was found bound and gagged, in a vacant lot within a stone's throw of her home this morning.

Police and detectives, among them Detective James Kane, her brother, who was sent to the scene at the first call when her identity had not yet been established, are searching for an unidentified moral weakling as her slayer.

Death was caused by a fist being brutally rammed down the girl's throat, it was stated after a preliminary examination.

Miss Kane attended a theatre performance in Manhattan with fifteen other girls last night, it was learned, and was on her way home alone when met by her assailant.

"I'll get the man who did this," said the girl's brother, after viewing the body in company with other detectives.

AUTO CLASSIC PILOTS SET FOR FLAG

At Least 23 Will Start In Memorial Day Race On Indianapolis Track

BULLETIN

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—A near fatal accident on the eve of the big race occurred at the motor speedway here this afternoon when L. L. Corum, driving one of Ralph De Palma's Miller specials, climbed the south wall when he temporarily lost control of the machine while taking a practice spin.

Corum was traveling at better than 100 miles an hour, but he miraculously escaped possible fatal injury, suffering only a few scratches. The rear axle of his machine was broken and it was officially declared out of the race tomorrow.

A few minutes later Corum was back on the track again turning the course at a dizzy rate to familiarize himself with another of De Palma's racers, which he will drive tomorrow in place of the smashed car.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—The famous speedway here was a scene of bustling activity today.

While thousands of fans, barred from the track while final preparations were being made to handle the capacity crowd expected, milled around downtown trying to buy the coveted admission pasteboards, the twenty-three drivers who successfully qualified for the 500 mile grind tomorrow worked over their mounts all day.

A field of twenty-three starters is assured with a prospect of four additional drivers qualifying their cars at the eleventh hour. Phil Shafer in a Duesenberg; Tom Alley in a Kess-Line Special; a super-Ford with no driver yet named, and a Smith Special driven by a member of the Smith family, will be given until the last minute to take the elimination trial and it was considered almost certain that the first two named will face the barrier tomorrow.

Bennie Hill, diminutive speed merchant, will not pilot a Miller front wheel drive tomorrow, a last minute change putting him back in his own car.

Although low, dark clouds hung threateningly today, tomorrow will be fair and just warm enough to make it comfortable for the stands, the weather man promised.

List of Starters

SLOT MACHINE ORDINANCE PENDING

New Measure Would Permit City Council To Have Complete Control

In the face of a proposed ordinance that, if adopted, will permit the installation and operation of 5-cent slot machines in Glendale, Chief of Police John D. Fraser today issued a warning to merchants that he will arrest and prosecute all persons who violate the present law which permits only 1-cent slot vending machines.

If the 5-cent slot machine ordinance is finally adopted, he said, the matter will then be out of his hands.

The ordinance, as presented by Councilman S. C. Kinch, places the entire police power of regulation of the slot machines in the hands of the City Council under the following provision:

"The council of the city of Glendale shall have the power, irrespective of any prosecution or lack of prosecution, for violation of this ordinance to revoke any license or permit granted hereunder upon proof satisfactory to it of any violation of this ordinance, or if, in its opinion, the operation of such vending machine at such establishment is detrimental to the public good."

With that provision, the council also could prevent cancellation of permits held by merchants against whom prosecution had been started by the police department, it was pointed out today, if, "in its opinion," the license should not be revoked.

Limited to Fifty

The number of slot machines by means of which merchandise for a sum greater than 1 cent is sold for which licenses shall be granted is limited to fifty, under the ordinance provisions. No person under 21 years of age will be permitted to play them.

While the ordinance requires

WITNESS CHARGES ATTEMPT ON LIFE

Letter Purporting To Come From Missing Shepherd Principal So States

CHICAGO, May 29.—How an attempt was made at midnight to assassinate him for refusing to favor the defendant in the Shepherd-McClintock murder case was told today in a letter received by the state's attorney and purporting to have been written by Robert White, missing witness for the prosecution.

The letter dated May 26, and posted in Philadelphia the next day included the statement that the atempted assassination followed the writer's refusal to accept $5,000 for repudiating his identification of Shepherd as a caller at the Faiman college.

Love! Gold! Death! Mystery!

ISABELLE POPE, shown here, fiancee of William McClintock, "orphan millionaire," of whose murder William D. Shepherd is accused, is anxious to testify in the trial of Shepherd, now in progress in Chicago. "I want to see a great wrong avenged," she says. Miss Pope accuses Shepherd of thwarting her marriage to McClintock on his deathbed. She is seen at the trial.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Under the sinister cloud of tragedy that hovers over the McClintock fortune, pretty Isabelle Pope, fiancee of the late Billy McClintock, is bravely facing her call to the witness stand in the Shepherd murder trial.

Death bed wills, sudden and mysterious death, scandal, legal entanglements and courtroom fights form the haunting background for this pretty young woman, whose testimony is giving rise to queries on every hand.

In straight-forward simplicity will she banish the forbidding wraiths that have haunted everyone in any way connected with the McClintock millions for generations?

Ill forboding rumors crowd the court room. From whence have arisen these hints and rumors?

Isabelle Pope, pretty, young and attractive, stood by her sweetheart as his life was ebbing from the dread typhus. His money spoke to others, but to her only the voice of love. The boy plead with her to marry him and nurse him back to health.

Isabelle tried her best to carry out his wish, but William Darling Shepherd thought otherwise and he was Billy's guardian.

Although months have passed time has but prolonged the sorrow for the girl, for the ever-searching legal procedure has revealed much more than rumor ever hinted. And now Shepherd's attorneys are hinting that just as sure as Isabelle Pope goes on the stand to testify they will enter testimony as to why Shepherd prevented the marriage.

What Will Happen?

Public opinion murmurs "Will they do this? We wonder! Will Shepherd or Mrs. Shepherd take the stand to tell that story or will that evidence take the form of letters dug up from nobody knows where and written who can tell by whom. Is there really some hidden reason behind the Shepherd trick, which fooled Isabelle Pope and Billy McClintock out of their marriage, or were Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd just thinking of

NEW MARK IS REACHED IN SHOT PUT CONTEST

Ralph Hills Of Princeton Hurls Ball 49 Feet and 8¾ Inches

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—A new intercollegiate record for the shotput was established in the annual intercollegiate A. A. A. A. track and field championships here this afternoon by Ralph Hills of Princeton. His heave measured 49 feet, 8 3-4 inches, as against the old record of 49 feet 5 7-8 inches.

Under skies as heavy as a sinner's conscience and an oppressive heat pervading all, the meet got under way this afternoon with trials in the javelin and shot.

It was the inaugural of a two-day meet and so keen was the competition for leadership that around half a dozen colleges were conceded an equal chance for ultimate victory.

California, which stepped back home with the title three times during the last four years, was one of the favorite entries. Southern California, headed by Bud Houser, Olympic champion, in the shot and discuss was another.

Houser Qualifies

The pre-meet odds, however, slightly favored Pennsylvania, with Yale, present champion, highly esteemed. Princeton, Penn State and Harvard also were conceded an outside chance.

In his first effort with the shot, Houser did 47 feet 7⅞ inches, virtually insuring his qualification for the finals.

Norman Anderson, teammate of Houser, followed the Olympic champion's effort with 46 feet 3 1-8 inches, whereupon Morken of California replied with a toss of 47 feet 5 inches. Ralph Hills, of Princeton, took the lead a short time later with a mark of 48 feet 8 3-8 inches. Anderson easily

The children's bodies were recovered from a creek near their home, with both skulls crushed.

Assistant District-Attorney Harry Estep declared Winters, under a three-hour grilling, broke down and confessed that he lured the children to the creek with candies and ice-cream, then murdered them.

"I don't know why I did it," detectives quoted Winters saying. "I hit one of them on the head with a rock and after that my recollection gets hazy."

The alleged slayer was a veteran of the World war, gassed several times, he said. Authorities believe the man was demented when he slew the children.

STAGE AND SCREEN

VIEWS AND PREVIEWS—NEWS NOTES FROM STUDIOS

Over Border

Anything can happen there and does in film today at Glendale theatre; big vaudeville offering.

"Beyond the Border" is a place where anything might happen and where everything has been known to happen. That is why it makes such an admirable title for Harry Carey's new Hunt Stromberg production opening today at the Glendale theatre. Carey's capabilities are as unlimited as the space "Beyond the Border."

It is not all outside the realm of credulity to see him take the place of another man and get away with it, as he does in this picture. He stresses the difficulties, the pathos, and the comedy of the situation with such finesse that nobody thinks to wonder that the heroine does not discover the masquerade.

Excellent Vaudeville

"Marriage and Insurance" is the billing of Leo and Viola Doherty's high-powered laugh-producing vehicle on the vaudeville stage. Lew Hawkins has rightfully earned the title of the "Chesterfield of Minstrelsy" by his clever and original work in the foremost burnt cork companies of America. Now he has forsaken the minstrel first part to entertain by himself in vaudeville and he is just as big a success as he was as end man.

Schepps' comedy circus introduces a galaxy of animal stars. Dogs of every description perform feats of intelligence, skill and daring. One of the most unusual ring acts in vaudeville today is offered by the Ardell brothers. This pair of muscular young chaps, possessing an abundance of pep, has a penchant for swinging one another on the rings.

Instrumental and song numbers rendered with the fervor of the Italian artist will be the offering of the Royal Venetian Five. These are opera singers who also play the violin, saxophone and guitar with magnetic skill.

Strong Role

NORMA TALMADGE, appearing in "The Lady" at the Cosmo theatre.

The heights and the depths! Both are plumbed in Norma Talmadge's latest photoplay, "The Lady," at the Cosmo theatre.

GATEWAY SHOWS DE MILLE MOVIE

'Golden Bed,' With Lillian Rich, Rod La Rocque, Is Theatre Attraction

Cecil B. DeMille's production, "The Golden Bed," at the Gateway theatre today and tomorrow, tells the story of Admah ("Candy") Holtz, risen to fortune from "poor white trash."

"Candy" Holtz is infatuated with Flora Lee Peake, alluring beauty. Margaret Peake, equally arrogant at first, learns the emptiness of unearned wealth and high social position, and works for the regeneration of Admah, after the young fellow is brought to ruin by a sister who accepts luxury from a husband while sneering and flirting behind his back.

As Flora Lee and Admah, Lillian Rich and the popular Rod La Rocque have two characters which book reviewers called "outstanding pen portraits," following publication of Wallace Irwin's novel. Vera Reynolds has the role of Margaret. Others in the cast are: Warner Baxter, Theodore Kosloff, Julia Faye, Henry Walthall, Robert Cain and Robert Edeson.

"The Golden Bed" is a fine De Mille social satire which for colorful drama bids fair to equal the success of such triumphs as "Manslaughter," "Feet of Clay" and "The Ten Commandments."

OBSERVE CHARTER NIGHT FOR CLUB

New Montrose-La Crescenta Order Gets Document At Celebration

With more than 250 guests representing Kiwanis clubs of Southern California cities, the charter of the Montrose-La Crescenta Kiwanis club was presented last night at a banquet and program held at the Oakmont Country club.

Urging the new club to "walk carefully and to build for quality rather than quantity," Leslie B. Henry, international trustee, declared that the changes in the community since he first visited Montrose twelve years ago show a rapid, solid growth that will be reflected in the growth of Kiwanis.

Other Southern California clubs represented last night included Long Beach, Hollywood, Eagle Rock, Whittier, Pasadena, San Fernando, South Pasadena, Lankershim, Highland Park and Los Angeles. Ford Dealers Showing Gila Monster Pet

All folks who love to have pets about the house should wend their way down to the Jesse E. Smith Co., authorized Ford dealers, at the corner of Colorado and Orange. On display in the window is a large Gila monster, which measures nineteen inches in length. It was captured by W. E. Hinson of the parts department on the cattle ranch of L. E. Morris, uncle of Mrs. Hinson, forty miles north of Phoenix, Arizona.

According to Mr. Hinson these deadly reptiles eat but four times a year. When the monster becomes angry, the breath exhaled is also poisonous in addition to the deadly poison which it carries in its gums. All the boys down at Jesse Smith's are having lots of fun with their "harmless" little pet.

An egg beater and salad mixer that may be operated by running water from the sink faucet, has been invented.

Heavy rains in South Africa recently did so much damage to transportation that general business there has suffered.

MORELAND TRUCK FACTORY VISITED

Headed by Mayor Harry G. MacBain, Councilmen Kimlin and Tower, President D. H. Smith of the Chamber of Commerce, and a large number of business men, Glendalians visited the plant of the Moreland Motor Co., just over the line in Burbank, yesterday afternoon.

The visitors were shown through the entire factory covering a ground space of twenty-six acres and housed in half a dozen large departmental buildings. Spectators watched with awe while half a hundred men poured steel castings from huge electric furnaces. They were permitted to go to the brink of the pit of moulten steel and were given an intimate view of the casting process from start to finish.

In another department pounding and shaping of steel parts desired to be extra strong and without flaw, was demonstrated. Hardening the surface of the steel castings by special process and oil and water quenching was also demonstrated.

See Busses Made

Gear cutting in one of the largest machine shops in the southwest, located at the Moreland plant, held special interest for many of the visitors. They were also shown through the body and coach works where at the present time a large order of double-deck, six-wheel passenger busses are under construction for the city of Los Angeles. Spraying paint on the finished trucks by means of pressure guns, assembling of the chassis, mounting of the bodies and other features were demonstrated.

E. Favary, engineer and sales manager of the concern, told the visitors that approximately $2,000,000 has been expended in building the Burbank truck factory and that the plant is by far the most complete and up-to-date in the west. Few other factories cast their own steel parts, none of them use electric furnaces, he said. A large percentage of the employes of the big plant live in Glendale. All of them live either in Glendale or in Burbank.

The tour of inspection of the truck factory was one of a series being conducted under the auspices of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce of the larger plants of the Glendale industrial district. The first visit was made to the Tropico Potteries.

"These large plants are lending much to our economical development in Glendale," President Smith, of the chamber, said. "They are co-operating 100 per cent with the Chamber of Commerce in boosting Glendale and in educating their employes to do their buying at home. It will be the purpose of the chamber in these inspection tours to familiarize the people of Glendale with our industries so that they will know where to go when they need the products that are manufactured here."

GLENDALE SHRINE CLUB INVITES AID

Lloyd Wilson, President Of Local Organization, In Appeal For Cars

Lloyd H. Wilson, president of the Glendale Shrine club, issued the following statement to Shriners in this city through The Glendale Evening News, today:

"Now is our golden opportunity to offset all the malicious propaganda that has been broadcast throughout the east about our Southern California in the last couple of years.

"Two hundred and fifty thousand nobles and their friends will visit Los Angeles next week. Glendale is vitally interested in showing the easterner what we have. We want your car with driver and all the assistance you can possibly give to drive these visitors over Southern California and show them why we are so proud of it.

4000 Cars Ready

"Al Malaikah Shrine of Los Angeles has over 4000 cars in which they are going to entertain their visiting nobles. Their motto is 'A free ride for every visitor.' No automobile will be charged for. Thousands of cars will be on the streets to take the visiting nobles any place they want to go, free of charge.

"Register at Shrine headquarters, 109 North Brand boulevard. Tell us what day we can use your car and how many it will hold. Give the entire week if you possibly can. Let us show our eastern friends what we have in Southern California.

"Remember, we want the assistance of the wives of nobles just as much as we want that of the nobles. We will have about as many ladies to entertain as we have of nobles."

BULLET-RIDDLED AUTO RECOVERED

Henry Kuhn, Cizek Auto Co., Gets Stolen Packard Left By Bandits

Riddled with bullet holes and sought by sheriff officers and police of half a dozen cities, Henry M. Kuhn, of the Cizek Auto Electric Co., 300 South Brand boulevard has recovered a Packard sedan, a recent birthday gift to his wife, stolen Wednesday night from in front of a Pasadena theatre.

It figured in four bandit holdups, one of which ended when a deputy sheriff emptied his gun in the machine. The automobile was badly punctured with lead, but neither of the two bandits who were inside were struck by bullets.

Kuhn discovered that the machine, purchased only three months ago, was missing shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday night. In another car he followed to Glendale to obtain the license number, and notified police and the Auto Club of Southern California of the theft.

Oil Station Stuck-Up

Shortly after 9 o'clock the big sedan drew up at a Standard Oil Co. service station at Wilshire and Sixth street in Hollywood. The bandit pair within, the identity of one of which is believed to have been established, ordered the service station attendants to throw up their hands. Because of recent holdups, however, a deputy sheriff had been hidden nearby. As he rushed out from cover, gun drawn, the big machine started forward.

The officer emptied his gun. Bullets went through the hood, struck the engine, pierced the body and damaged the fenders of Kuhn's car, but missed the bandits.

Later Wednesday night police received reports of three more holdups, apparently by the same pair using the same automobile. Because of the type of car, the yeggmen were declared to be "society bandits." At one service station only $15 was obtained. Small amounts were stolen from another service station and from a grocery store in the Hollywood district.

Car Abandoned

Detectives of the Automobile Club of Southern California located the abandoned automobile at Wilshire and Little street, and it was taken to the Lincoln

How About the Growth of Adams Square?

Until recently there was a conspicuous sign standing in Adams Square telling of the Adams Square Theatre to be erected there. Somebody, however, voiced objections thereto, and as a consequence the sign was removed and replaced by us with the decorative stone and flower bed which now imparts the same information to the passing throng. After all, a vote of thanks is due to those who were instrumental in having the first sign removed, because the present arrangement is not only more effective, but as well, more aesthetic.

Nevertheless it is quite obvious that there are interests at work in Glendale opposed to the development of any new business sections of the community as long as there are unrented stores in the older parts. This may be the correct attitude. But if acted on what becomes of civic development?

The Adams Square people, who are feeling the remarkable rise in values that is taking place in this section, claim that competition between different sections of the city for trade is what makes a city grow attractive as well as prosperous, and it is nearly a mile to another business section. Some thirty-five or more dwellings are now being erected in the neighborhood. Is building a theatre and stores to serve the district helping Glendale, or hurting Glendale? Frankly we are puzzled. We seek enlightenment. For we have the highest respect for the city officials and various public spirited civic bodies, who are interested in planning and directing the city's continued growth and welfare. We want to work with them and help them. Under no circumstances shall we work against their good objectives.

We could sell out our holdings in Adams Square now, at a big profit. But we want to develop our property, because traffic tells us what the future of Adams Square will be. It is no guess. Simply count the cars passing there every hour of the day. None of our property in Adams Square is for sale at any price.

With proper co-operation for the city and others interested, so that the theater could be built and made easy of access and not interfere with any projects under way for beautifying this section, we would be perfectly willing to give a bond for the erection of the Adams Square Theatre and business block, within a specified time---without waiting for tenants in advance.

Write us what you think of the matter and we would especially like to hear from some of our public men of affairs, our city officials and prominent business men. If we can not induce the papers to print these answers free, we will publish some of them at our own expense. We want to work for the best interests of Glendale.

INTEREST IN MOROCCO

Northern Africa has become the center of European interest, according to news dispatches, and while France and England are wondering what Hindenburg is going to do, Abd-el Krim, Sultan of the Riff, is holding the center of the stage and is stealing the show from the German war lord.

When the Riffians had captured Raisuli, the Moroccan bandit who had allied himself with Spain, it was necessary for the French to jump into the conflict to protect her own interests in Africa. And England is watching developments rather breathlessly for, should Abd-el Krim get the upper hand of the French, it may endanger British control in Egypt. In fact the outcome of these skirmishes with the dark-skinned hill tribes of Northern Africa will not be without its influence on the history of the world and especially on the Mediterranean countries, for the Riffian territory overlooks one of the gateways of the world, the Strait of Gibraltar. Also Abd-el Krim is regarded by his followers as the hope of Islam.

That France and Spain are trying to treat with Abd-el Krim and are offering him concessions is proof of the seriousness of the situation as regards these countries. The French are hampered by lack of support at home for the French Socialists will not co-operate in the Riffian campaign, being willing that France should suffer defeat in Morocco if it would advance their own interests at home.

The Moroccan campaign is proving fabulously expensive to France should suffer defeat in Morocco if it would advance and railways, the high cost of material and foodstuffs and the difficulties of transportation and hospital service. Even if France should be victorious against her own enemies in Morocco she faces a grave danger from the Spanish territory where the Spanish have utterly failed in their campaign against the Riffs and where thousands of hill tribes are in arms. French forces have been increased since the offensive began from 84,000 to 123,000.

Troubled over the German situation, facing an overthrow of her ministry, and confronted with this most serious situation in Africa, France is sailing on troubled waters.

THE HARDEST JOB

To those who had read the article in Century by an anonymous clergyman, the indictment of Will Hays, before the Presbyterian General Assembly, of those denominations which pay their pastors less than ditch-diggers receive, seemed very pertinent.

The article describes vividly the emotional drain on the minister. Often he has to go from a wedding to a funeral the same day, or even the same hour, and he is expected to share in the joys and sorrows of his parishioners. For each occasion he must have the appropriate word, the appropriate emotion, the proper intonation of voice, the proper look on his face. He must appear sorry at a funeral and happy at a wedding. How impossible for him to always share sincerely the emotions of those to whom he ministers.

The minister must preach perfection and he must have, or pretend to have, the virtues he preaches. He must be at the beck and call of his parishioners and the townspeople as well. He must be clever, entertaining, informing, inspiring and authoritative. Every public subject is his subject. He must spend so much time talking that he hasn't time to learn the things he is talking about. Under the circumstances he is often compelled to be superficial, general and sentimental. He is drained, overtaxed, overstrained. He is the scapegoat of the community.

The clergyman has a hard job, it cannot be denied. It is not only the shame of the church but of the community as a whole that he is so poorly paid.

SATAN'S DEVICES

In these days few of us are brave enough to say anything cannot be done. Wonders upon wonders have been unfolded before our eyes with such rapidity that all our skepticism has vanished and we are taking the marvels of science and invention as a matter of course.

It was not always so. People used to believe that nothing that had not been done could be done and moreover that it was sacrilegious to try. Even as recently as twenty-five years ago people were calling the automobile the devil wagon, not inappropriately, it must be admitted. But that day is past. Even the dullest of us know there is no limit to what may be brought forth and that it is man's right and duty to promote his own happiness and comfort by new devices and inventions.

So it is interesting to read a resolution passed by a school board in Ohio a matter of nearly a hundred years ago. It was resolved:

"You are welcome to use this schoolhouse to debate all proper questions in. But such things as railroads and telegraphs are impossible and rank infidelity. There is nothing in the Word of God about them. If God had designed that his intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of fifteen miles an hour by steam he would have foretold it by the mouth of His holy prophets. It is a device of Satan to carry the souls of the faithful down to hell."

That was in 1828. There are a few people alive today who were living then. They can truly say in the words of the first telegram, "What hath God wrought?"

LAW ENFORCEMENT

We hear a great deal about the multiplicity of laws and the laxity of law-enforcement officials but Attorney General John G. Sargent is optimistic over the whole matter and sees the real reasons for conditions being as they are.

It is but natural that our laws should expand in proportion to our growth for we live in a period of constant progress, social and industrial. Our laws change pretty fast, too, and we break the new ones unreflectingly. "Generally, I think the American people mean to obey our laws," says Mr. Sargent.

The fact that there are more arrests today than ever before suggests to him better law enforcement. He believes that absence of saloons, less drunkenness and a better moral atmosphere are evidence that prohibition has wrought great good.

THE NEW WATCH ON THE RHINE!

Baldness and Brains

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There are many speculations upon the causes of baldness.

Perhaps the best reason is that there is a lack of elimination through the pores of the scalp. The hairs die out because the pores around them cease to function.

It is said that bald-headed men are particularly subject to heart disease, although this has been denied.

Perhaps the best explanation of baldness, as we have said, is defective elimination.

It is necessary for a man to eliminate well in every respect if he is to remain healthy.

Most of the diseases to which flesh is heir are due to defective elimination through the colon. Constipation is one of the greatest enemies of the race. Dr. Kellogg says that a man should have a healthy evacuation two times a day. This is to be gained by careful attention to diet better than any other way.

It is necessary also to keep the pores open, as the body as a whole is a breathing surface. It must constantly be giving forth moisture in order to be healthy.

The same truth has its analogy in our spiritual or mental life. We gain much in mental power by constantly giving forth.

Talking or writing has been of great benefit to many men. If you will deliberately form the habit of setting down your opinions you will find that they become more and more clear and definite.

Successful writers have often been asked where they find so much to write about. One would think they would run out of subjects.

The more one writes, consistently and periodically, the more subjects come to him. And the more one neglects to write the drier he becomes in the way of inspiration.

When I went to school I studied algebra. I got one hundred per cent in it, but I did not know anything about it when I got through. Afterwards I taught school and was compelled to teach algebra. I found out that I learned more about algebra by teaching it than I had ever learned by studying it.

The best way to learn a subject is to teach it.

A man's brain is a vehicle, a medium. It does not originate things, but it passes things through it.

The universe is a storehouse of wisdom and health and strength. Man is a pipe that conducts this supply to others. When the out-take ceases the intake usually stops.

Only those bodies of water which have outgo remain perpetually sweet.

For this reason public speaking, writing and intelligent conversation are great helps toward correct thinking and perpetual inspiration.

Horoscope

According to astrology, this is a doubtful day for Saturn in evil place dominates it. Uranus and Mercury are also adverse.

Unrest among workers of every sort, especially among clerks and the white collar contingent of industry.

Highly-educated men and women will protest against the wage scales to which they are subjects and there may be much newspaper agitation regarding salary schedules.

Aged persons as well as those who are old in mind inasmuch as they espouse ideas of the past, may find this day most unhappy as it will bring them anxieties.

Modern thought is to be strongly directed in new channels for great discoveries in science are to mark the coming months.

Old things are to pass away rapidly and while there is to be a certain reaction against moral license there is to be a new world for those who really think.

Paradoxical conditions are indicated, for in a period of most advanced intellectual attainment there will be a recurrence of ancient superstitions.

Again astrology is to exercise a wide influence, the seers prophesy and all who are wise will consult the stars.

Extra caution in signing all legal documents is counseled while this planetary rule prevails.

Psychic vibration are supposed to be strong this afternoon inclining to indolence and indifference.

Indulgence in criticism and harsh judgment may be marked among all classes of men and women. Warning is given that destructive thought should be avoided.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have many difficulties in business affairs, but they may easily overcome them by the exercise of caution.

Children born on this day have the augury of success if they consent to let others manage their business affairs, for these subjects of Gemini are usually too artistic to be practical.

Today's Poem

COMMONPLACE

"A commonplace life," we say, and we sigfih;
But why should we sigh as we say?
The commonplace sun in the commonplace sky,
Makes up the commonplace day;
The moon and the stars are commonplace things,
And the flower that blooms, and the bird that sings;
But dark were the world and sad our lot
If the flowers failed and the sun shone not;
And God, who studies each separate soul,
Out of commonplace lives makes his beautiful whole.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

Worthy work carries with it the hope of pleasure in rest, the hope of the pleasure in our using what it makes, and the hope of pleasure in our daily creative skill.

So obseved William Morris who, for one, believed that all other work but this is worthless; "it is slaves' work—mere toiling to live, that we may live to toil," he said.

Most people appear to assume that all work is useful, and many persons believe that work is desirable. It has become a part of popular thought that labor is good in itself.

But all of us should be able to see that there are two kinds of work—one good, the other bad; one not far removed from a blessing, a lightening of life, the other a mere curse, a burden to life.

* * *

What is the difference between them? This: One has hope in it, the other has not.

What is the nature of the hope which, when it is present in work, makes it worth doing? Morris answers:

"It is threefold, I think—hope of rest, hope of product, hope of pleasure in the work itself; and hope of these also in some abundance and of good quality; rest enough and good enough to be worth having; product worth having by one who is neither a fool nor an ascetic; pleasure enough for all of us to be conscious of it while we are at work; not a mere habit, the loss of which he shall feel as a fidgety man feels the loss of the bit of string he fidgets with."

* * *

Note that he puts hope of rest first. He does so, he explains, "because it is the simplest and most natural part of our hope."

"What ever hope there is in some work," he continues, "there is certainly some pain in all work, the beast-like sting of stirring up our slumbering energies to action, the beast-like dread of change when things are well with us; the compensation for this animal pain is animal rest."

We must feel while we are working that the time will come when we shall not have to work.

The rest, when it comes, must be long enough to allow us to enjoy it; it must be longer than is merely necessary for us to recover the strength we have expended in working, and it must be animal rest also in this, that it must not be disturbed in anxiety, else we shall not be able to enjoy it.

Here is something employers should remember well.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, May 29.—Margaret J. Wood of this city has filed with the Board of Trustees an application for appointment as policewoman. No action has been taken on it.

Rotarians here are backing a plan for the lighting of the John Muir school grounds at night for recreational purposes for children. The school board has no funds for the proposed plan. A committee has been selected to determine the probable cost and the feasibility of the plan.

Night Watchman Ray Becker arrived at the office of the Franklin Oil Co. recently just as the safe was blown open. The lock had been broken off, and explosives placed in a drilled hole. Becker saw one of the yeggmen as he climbed through the window.

Norman Snow and a number of property owners along San Fernando road appeared before the Board of Trustees and asked that they be allowed to pave half of San Fernando road between Cypress avenue and Scott road. Snow was told that action will be taken on the improvement within the next few days, and that a large appropriation is expected to be made by the county to aid in the work.

Mrs. C. C. Blood and little son Lisle, of Verdugo avenue, have returned from Silver City, N. M., where they spent a month visiting with relatives.

'BLUE' SINGER IS DUE AT ORPHEUM

Marion Harris to Grace Spot Position on Keith Bill During Shrine Week

The Shriners are here. Summer is here. And last but not least Marion Harris will be here beginning next Monday matinee at the Orpheum. Everyone has heard "blues" of some description but there is only one Harris style, one Harris voice, and one Harris personality and many Shriners wil have the pleasure of hearing songs that have made Marion Harris so popular with the "phonograph public." Edwin Weber will be at the piano.

Another big strike for Orpheum patrons will be the return of Ernest R. Ball, who writes 'em and sings 'em. He is accompanied by a bevy of beauties to aid his musical act.

Venita Gould will give "Impressions" in song. The drama end of the bill will be taken care of by William Morris and family in "All the Horrors of Home." "Lets Dance," features the McGushion twins. Milton Berle monologues a merry monologue. Chain and Archer will be held over for a second week as is Jack Redmond, the golf wizard.

Topics and newsreel will spell finis to a Shrine week bill.

A $240,000 wharf especially for fishermen will be built by Vancouver, B. C.

SHOE STYLES FOR SEASON FORECAST

Fashion Horoscope Decrees Only Slight Changes In Fall Footwear

Patterns in milady's footwear will follow present styles this coming fall season, it was learned by the several Glendale dealers attending the California Retail Shoe Dealers' association annual meeting in Santa Barbara this week. A representative of The Glendale Evenings News accompanied R. E. Brown of the Glendale Bootery on a tour of inspection of the score or more of sample lines displayed.

A telegram from I. Miller & Sons, New York, who are recognized among the leaders, to their representative at Santa Barbara, E. T. Reedy, gives the following information:

"Early fall numbers will be in patent leather, black satin, kidskins in tones of browns and tans, also some Russian calf shoes, as well as brown and satins with appliques of lizard and alligator. The shoes will harmonize with the ensemble of fall styles now being dictated. Contrast hosiery will be worn with fall footwear."

For Evening Wear

Among the displays for evening wear at present were seen silver and gold French kid, brocade with silver or gold in operas without straps or very thin anklets, among the many beautiful numbers.

The sports line includes golf shoes with crepe rubber soles as well as outdoor models in German imitation alligator and lizard, some being trimmed with real shark skin. In fact, all the reptiles are being used for leather, it would seem, and those in which there is a shortage of real goods find not only clever imitations, but, in instances, hand-stamped improvements on nature.

While the foreigners excel in tanning, according to one authority at the convention, America leads in shoe manufacture because of its rapid strides along scientific lines of fitting the feet. There are 160 sizes approximately for women to select from and 90 combinations of lasts for men.

World-Wide Search

In America the people are willing to pay for comfort and they are learning that careful selection of shoes is necessary for the well-dressed person's proper clothing ensemble. It was predicted that women will give as much time to buying shoes as they do to millinery.

The world is being searched for shoe material, it was noted in the displays. Batik from France and brocade from Belgium, among the unusual numbers; handstamped leathers from Venice, Italy, kangaroo from Australia, doeskins from China, grasses from South America, silk from Japan, tassles from Austria and rubber from Central America, being some of the instances cited.

It has been found after much experience that the crepe plantation rubber soles introduced a year ago, need a backing of leather which is seen in the newer models for out-of-door wear. Incidentally, British control of rubber has run the price from 17 cents a pound for the crude to 70 cents a pound in the last six months, according to the well-informed shoe manufacturers' representatives who talked on the problems of the industries.

Local Delegates

Another new line in men's shoes which is proving popular already is the balloon toe last with a broad short effect to accompany the seafaring trousers worn at present. Zebra weltings give these shoes class never before obtained in men's regular lines.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brown, N. C. Smith of Pendroy's shoe department, was noted among those from this city attending the Santa Barbara convention.

Emil Goldman of 1009 East Raleigh street, in company with Buford Jones, vice-president of the Thompson-Crooker Shoe Co. of Boston, who was one of the speakers, was among the many Pacific coast representatives present renewing acquaintances.

Forty concrete houses of five rooms each are to be erected at a cost of $1315 apiece in the Droheda housing scheme of Ireland.

Newfoundland will construct 220 miles of highways beginning at once.

"If it works, it's true!"

But it doesn't prove out in practice—this legend about salt as an aid to bird-catching.

Neither does the superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about eastern lubricants—merely because they cost more. Every quart of Zerolene you buy proves the groundlessness of this superstition.

Pacific Coast Crude Is Best

Zerolene is a western oil—and a better oil even if it does cost less.

As a matter of fact, the best crude petroleum so far discovered for the manufacture of a motor lubricant is obtained from Pacific Coast wells, and the most advanced refining process is this Company's patented high-vacuum process during the use of which Zerolene is submitted to 15 positive checks for quality.

Experienced Drivers Prefer Zerolene

Experienced drivers know this—that Zerolene lubricates more cars in the Pacific Coast states than any other oil made—heavy-duty trucks and high-priced cars alike. Superstitions don't work out in practice—Zerolene will increase the gasoline mileage of your car, reduce carbon accumulation in the cylinders and lengthen your car's working life.

Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene—ask for it by name.

Insist on ZEROLENE even if it does COST LESS that merchandise that would ordinarily sell for 5 cents be given with each purchase, the machine also delivers chips good for merchandise or to make further plays in the machine.

Because of that, it has been ruled out of many cities in California during the past year on the ground that it is a gambling device. "Those merchants who believe they can get away with installation of the machines before the proposed ordinance is adopted and put into effect will be greatly disappointed," said Chief Fraser today. "Every case of that kind will be prosecuted."

Corrects Statements Regarding G.A.R. Hall

Editor The Evening News—We, the undersigned trustees, wish to make a correction in regard to a statement that has been circulated to the effect that the trustees have had the title to the G. A. R. hall made over to them. The fact of the matter is the title is vested in the Woman's Relief Corps, and stands today just as it was made to them by Mr. and Mrs. Winnie, the donors, in 1902. Any statement to the contrary we brand as utterly false. Our obligation as an organization is first to keep the hall for the use of N. P. Banks post so long as there is one of them living.

The Woman's Relief Corps is not asking anything from the public in the way of a donation, as we have been able to meet the necessary expenses of the property so far and have, and shall always be, faithful to the trust imposed upon us, to keep it for the use of N. P. Banks post and Corps.

The HOUSE Of The ARROW

A SERIAL STORY WRITTEN BY A. E. W. MASON

Protected By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Good night, Betty," said Jim, and Ann Upcott ran past him up the steps and waved her hand.

"Good night," said Jim, and with a twist of her shoulders Ann followed Betty. She came back, however. She was wearing a little white frock of crepe de chine with white stockings and satin shoes, and she gleamed at the head of the steps like a slender thing of silver.

"You'll bolt the door when you come in, won't you?" she pleaded with a curious anxiety considering the height of the strong walls about the garden.

"I will," said Jim, and he wondered why in all this business Ann Upcott stood out as a note of fear. It was high time, indeed, that the long line of windows was thrown open and the interdict raised from the house and its inmates. Jim Frobisher paced the quiet garden in the darkness with a prayer at his heart that that time would come tomorrow. In Betty's room above the reception rooms the light was still burning behind the latticed shutters of the windows, in spite of her confidence that she would sleep—yes, and in Ann Upcott's room, too, at the end of the house towards the street. A fury against Boris Waberski flamed in him.

It was late before he himself went into the house and barred the door, later still before he fell asleep. But once asleep, he slept soundly, and when he waked, it was to find his shutters thrown wide to the sunlight, his coffee cold by his bedside, and Gaston, the old servant, in the room.

"Monsieur Hanaud asked me to tell you he was in the library," he said.

Jim was out of bed in an instant.

"Already? What is the time, Gaston?"

"Nine o'clock. I have prepared Monsieur's bath." He removed the tray from the table by the bed. "I will bring some fresh coffee."

"Thank you! And will you please tell Monsieur Hanaud that I will not be long."

"Certainly, Monsieur."

Jim took his coffee while he dressed and hurried down to the library, where he found Hanaud seated at the big writing table in the middle of the room, with a newspaper spread out over the blotting-pad and placidly reading the news. He spoke quickly enough, however, the moment Jim appeared.

"So you left your hotel in the Place Darcy, after all, eh, my friend? The exquisite Miss Upcott! She had but to sigh out a little prayer and clasp her hands together, and it was done. Yes, I saw it all from the hall. What it is to be young! You have those two letters which Waberski wrote your firm?"

"Yes," said Jim. He did not think it necessary to explain that though the prayer was Ann Upcott's, it was the thought of Betty which had brought him to the Maison Grenelle.

"Good! I have sent for him," said Hanaud.

"To come to this house?"

"I am expecting him now."

"That's capital," cried Jim. "I shall meet him, then! The damned rogue! I shouldn't wonder if I thumped him," and he clenched his fist and shook it in a joyous anticipation.

"I doubt if that would be so helpful as you think. No, I beg of you to place yourself in my hands this morning, Monsieur Frobisher," Hanaud interposed soberly. "If you confront Waberski at once with those two letters, at once his accusation breaks down. He will withdraw it. He will excuse himself. He will burst into a torrent of complaints and reproaches. And I shall get nothing out of him. That I do not want."

"But what is there to be got?" Jim asked impatiently.

"Something, perhaps. Perhaps nothing, the detective returned with a shrug of the shoulders. "I have a second mission in Dijon, as I told you in Paris."

"The anonymous letters?"

"Yes. You were present yesterday when Mademoiselle Harlowe told me how she learned that I was summoned from Paris upon this case. It was not, after all, any of my colleagues here who spread the news. It is even now unknown that I am here. No, it was the writer of the letters. And in so difficult a matter I can afford to neglect no clue. Did Waberski know that I was going to be sent for? Did he hear that at the prefecture when he lodged his charge on the Saturday or from the examining magistrate on the same day? And if he did, to whom did he talk between the time when he saw the magistrate and the time when letters must be posted if they are to be delivered on the Sunday morning? These are questions I must have the answer to, and if we at once administer the knock-out with your letters, I shall not get them. I must lead him on with friendliness. You see that."

Jim very reluctantly did. He had longed to see Hanaud dealing with Waberski in the most outrageous of his moods, pouncing and tearing and trampling with the gibes of a schoolboy and the improprieties of the gutter. Hanaud indeed had promised him as much. But he found him now all for restraint and sobriety and more concerned apparently with the authorship of the anonymous letters than with the righting of Betty Harlowe. Jim felt that he had been defrauded.

"But I am to meet this man," he said. "That must not be forgotten."

"And it shall not be," Hanaud assured him. He led him over to the door in the inner wall close to the observation window and opened it.

"See! If you will please to wait in here," and as the disappointment deepened on Jim's face, he added, "Oh, I do not ask you to shut the door. No. Bring up a chair to it—so! And keep the door ajar so! Then you will see and hear and yet not be seen. You are content? Not very. You would prefer to be on the stage the whole time like an actor. Yes, we all do. But, at all events, you do not throw up your part," and with a friendly grin he turned back to the table.

A shuffling step which merged into the next step with a curiously slovenly sound rose from the courtyard.

"It was time we made our little arrangements," said Hanaud in an undertone. "For here comes our hero from the Steppes."

Jim popped his head through the doorway.

"Monsieur Hanaud," he whispered excitedly. Monsieur Hanaud! It cannot be wise to leave those windows open on the courtyard. For if we can hear a footstep so loudly in this room, anything said in this room will be easily overheard in that court."

"But how true that is;" Hanaud replied in the same voice and struck his forehead with his fist in anger at his folly. "But what are we to do? The day is so hot. This room will be an oven. The ladies and Waberski will all faint. Besides, I have an officer in plain clothes already stationed in the court to see that it is kept empty. Yes, we will risk it."

Jim drew back.

"That man doesn't welcome advice from any one," he said indignantly, but he said it only to himself; and almost before he had finished, the bell rang. A few seconds afterwards Gaston entered.

"Monsieur Boris," he said.

"Yes," said Hanaud with a nod. "And will you tell the ladies that we are ready?"

Boris Waberski, a long, round-shouldered man with bent knees and clumsy feet, dressed in black and holding a soft black felt hat in his hand, shambled quickly into the room and stopped dead at the sight of Hanaud. Hanaud bowed and Waberski returned the bow; and then the two men stood looking at one another—Hanaud all geniality and smiles, Waberski a rather grotesque figure of uneasiness like one of those many grim caricatures carved by the imagination of the Middle Ages on the columns of the churches of Dijon. He blinked in perplexity at the detective and with his long, tobacco-stained fingers tortured his grey moustache.

"Will you be seated?" said Hanaud politely. "I think that the ladies will not keep us waiting."

He pointed towards a chair in front of the writing table but on his left hand and opposite to the door.

"I don't understand," said Waberski doubtfully. "I received a message. I understood that the examining magistrate had sent for me."

"I am his agent," said Hanaud. "I am—" and he stopped. "Yes?"

Boris Waberski stared.

"I said nothing."

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE GUINEA HEN

Once upon a time Mrs. Longears said to her new husband, Uncle Wiggily:

"Will you please get me some guinea hen's eggs?"

"Why, of course I will, my dear," answered the bunny rabbit gentleman, politely twinkling his pink nose. "Do you want those from the five and six cent store or do you prefer those from the ten and eleven cent emporium?"

"Neither one!" replied Mrs. Longears with a laugh. "But Mrs. Guinea Hen herself promised me some of her eggs to make a cake with and if you will kindly hop over to her coop she will give them to you."

"It shall be done," said Mr. Longears, efficient like and economical, and as he was about to hop away over the fields and through the woods, a voice called:

"Please take me with you, Daddycums." Uncle Wiggily turned and saw Jingle, one of the little rabbit girls, running down the path toward him.

"All right, Jingle, you may come," Uncle Wiggily said. "But where is your sister Jangle?" For the two, with names so nearly alike, were almost always playing together.

"Jangle has gone to the store with Scooter and Tooter to get a taste of the lollypop they are going to buy," answered Jingle.

"But I rather come with you, Daddycums," and she snuggled up to her new daddy.

"Why would you rather come with me, Jingle" asked Uncle Wiggily, feeling sort of puffed up and proud ike.

"'Cause—now," giggled Jingle, "Scooter and Tooter only got money enough to buy one lollypop an' there's three of 'em to take turns eating it. But if I come with you—maybe—now—maybe you'll buy me a lollypop all for myself—maybe," and she laughed at her new daddy.

"Um—maybe," chucked Uncle Wiggily. "Hop along, Jingle. We must get the guinea hen lady's eggs for mother."

But as they were hopping through the woods, all of a sudden Uncle Wiggily felt such a rheumatism pain in his left leg that he could hop no farther, but had to sit down on a log.

"Shall I go get Dr. Possum?" asked Jingle.

"No thank you," answered her new daddy. "I shall be all right if I rest here a little while. You hop on to Mrs. Guinea Hen's coop and get the eggs. Come back with them to me and I'll be all right then, and on the way home I'll buy you a lollypop."

So while Uncle Wiggily rested in the woods Jingle hopped on to the hen coop house, and Mrs. Guinea Hen gave her the eggs in a basket. But just as the Guinea Hen lady was telling Jingle to be careful and not break them, the Fuzzy Fox rushed along with a bag. And before Jingle and Mrs. Guinea Hen could get out of the way, the Fox scooped them both up, eggs and all, into his bag. Slinging the bag over his shoulder, off to his den he ran.

"Oh, dear. Oh, dear. Daddycum Uncle Wiggily, please help us," cried Jingle.

Then Mrs. Guinea Hen opened her funny beak and cried:

"Buckwheat. Buckwheat. Buckwheat." For that is the cry of all guinea hens, as you may learn for yourself if you listen.

And the Fox, carrying Jingle and the hen lady off to his den, heard this cry of "Buckwheat. Buckwheat. Buckwheat."

"Ho. Ho." laughed the Fox to himself. "Some one is baking buckwheat cakes. I am very fond of them. I'll just set my bag down until I find some buckwheat cakes, and after I eat them I'll eat this little rabbit girl and hen lady."

Then Mrs. Guinea Hen cried again: "Buckwheat." The hungry Fox laid down his bag and began looking around to see who might be baking the cakes, but of course no one was. And no sooner was the bag on the ground, than out sprang Jingle with the eggs and out fluttered Mrs. Guinea Hen, but she no longer cried "buckwheat," for she did not want the Fox to hear her.

Jingle and the hen lady soon reached Uncle Wiggily, whose rheumatism pain was now better, and he took the eggs and thanked Mrs. Guinea Hen. Then the two bunnies went to the lollypop store. And when the Fox couldn't find any buckwheat cakes after all, and saw that his bag was empty—why, that Fox was very much disappointed. But it served him right, I say. And if the bumble bee doesn't sit down to read the Fly Paper when he ought to be making honey for the molasses jug, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the mole.

Silk black foxes will thrive in western Canada, according to the success of one company which sent 100 pelts to London within the last year.

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Women witnesses are testifying before the county grand jury as to Annette Kellerman's activity in selling memberships in the Hidden Rancho Country club near Tujunga, which now is in litigation. FOR KIDNEY TROUBLES DRUGGIST WOULD ONLY RECOMMEND ALVITA

"Before allowing myself to become enthused over ALVITA tablets, I tried them out on myself. I can say truthfully that I am surprised at the results of the tablets. I have had a lot of trouble with my bladder and kidneys and have tried many remedies from the store. The only thing I would recommend today for prostatic and bladder troubles is the ALVITA Tablet. I got complete relief from my own trouble, which satisfies me of their merit."

Diet and Health

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

Complemental Feeding

Mrs. D.—Don't under any circumstances stop nursing your baby simply because you don't seem to have enough milk.

Are you getting lots of fresh air and are you eating correctly? You should have about a quart of milk each day, liberal servings of fresh vegetables and fruit, some nuts, eggs and the whole grain cereals and breads. But don't eat so much that you gain in weight, unless you are underweight.

When the milk seems to be scanty it may be better to use both breasts at a feeding. If the baby does not seem to get it all, use a breast pump.

On the dairy farms it is found that the cows go dry if they are not milked thoroughly. If you do not succeed in getting more milk, you can give the infant an artificial formula after the feeding. We call this a complemental feeding. It is best to give the artificial formula after the feeding, because breast milk seems to act like magic in making the artificial food digest better.

You should go to a baby station or children's specialist for the formula suitable for your baby. See answer to Mrs. D. below for suggestions.

One Bottle a Day

"Dear Doctor: Will you kindly send me your advice on feeding the baby? My baby is five months old and I have never given her a bottle feeding. Will you kindly tell me how to prepare milk for her?

"I wish to thank you for your pamphlet on Diet in Pregnancy and Nursing. It certainly was a great help to me. My baby came in perfect health and I did not have a hard time. She is becoming healthier and healthier each day.—Mrs. D."

You should not wean your baby until it is about nine months old. However, one bottle a day is advisable from the second month, most children specialists believe.

For a baby after five months you can begin with a solution made of three ounces of milk and four ounces of water. Every other day add a tablespoonful of milk and leave out a tablespoonful of water, until the baby is taking whole milk. There is no need of your putting sugar in it, for this one bottle, because she will soon be on the whole milk; then you do not need the sugar. If you do use sugar, the malt sugar usually agrees best, although the granulated will do when only one bottle is given. Begin with one-half level teaspoonful and gradually increase to one teaspoonful.

If you cannot get the certified milk, get the pasteurized. It would be well to boil the milk and water together for three or four days, until the baby gets used to the milk. (Boiling makes it more digestible.) If you boil it, add an extra ounce or two of water to allow for that which is boiled down.

I am glad you had good results from the instructions on diet. We mustn't take full credit for your healthy baby, just from the diet, however. You and daddy undoubtedly gave her a healthy heritage, and you undoubtedly took care of yourself in the way of exercise and fresh air and sleep, mental poise, etc.

Mrs. B.—Apparent colic may be real hunger. This most often happens when the baby swallows a lot of air which fills his tummie so he can't take enough milk. Hold him upright once or twice while nursing so the air can come up. We have an article on colic you may have. (Enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope with your request).

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e., if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

MAKE YOUR COLD CREAM

Cold creams are so easy to make and cost so much less when made at home that I wonder why anyone buys them any more. A cream of some good sort is essential to prevent sunburn, and to cure wind burn, to soften chapped skin, to keep the complexion from being weather beaten in any kind of climate, and most of all, to keep it clean and smooth. Because train soot and road dust and street dirt fly about the air all the time, there are few places these days remote enough to have absolutely clean air.

Therefore a cream is necessary; light enough to work into the pores and to cleanse them, and, if the skin is dry or if you are nearing the wrinkle age, to feed the tissues under the skin. A flesh building cream is also cleansing, but a regular cleansing cream is easier to massage with and cheaper to make.

Here's the formula—One ounce of white wax and one ounce of spermaceti, melted in a saucepan with five ounces of white mineral oil if you want a cleansing cream (or five ounces of olive oil if you want a flesh builder). Add 15 drops of perfumed oil; I prefer bitter almond for its pungent smell. In another saucepan heat until lukewarm 30 grains of powdered borax and one and one-half ounces of rose water.

When the wax is quite melted into the oil, take at once from the fire, slowly pour in the rose water, stir and beat while the whole cools and when it is just ready to congeal, when it is about as thick as mayonnaise, pour off into jars. That's all there is to it, and the one thing to remember is not to heat the oils too hot.

The olive oil cream would sell in shops for $2.50 a jar—the formula makes a bit less than two jars. The cleansing cream would sell for about 60c. to $1.00 a jar, for a quality not as good as this.

Myrtle—To increase the size of the bust, massage with cocoa butter every day. Every morning bathe in cold water and stimulate the circulation by using a coarse towel. Neither the massage nor the bathing should be anything but gentle. Any woman now may dress so that her figure looks well, and a small bust is no detraction whatever.

Here's a good formula

A Constant Reader—Consult the doctor about your unpleasant breath, for it can come from so many causes, all of which need a doctor, that you only waste time in handling it yourself.

Tomorrow—The Anemic Woman

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. Snyder-Terry

One of the prettiest spring weddings of the season was that of Miss Dorothy Jean Terry of 719 East Lomita avenue and J. Paul Snyder of Tacoma, Wash., which was solemnized last night, Thursday, May 28, 1925, at 8 o'clock, at Glendale Presbyterian church. Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony. Decorations of the church were in charge of Mrs. Roy King, assisted by members of the Rhoda club, of which Mrs. M. H. Terry, mother of the bride, is teacher.

The bride wore an imported silk and chiffon wedding dress, the material having been sent by her cousin, Miss Lois Henderson, missionary at Seoul, Korea. Her wedding veil was made en traine and was held in place with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's rosebuds and lilies-of-the-valley. Oscar Walton, organist, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin and also Mendelssohn's wedding march. He played softly during the ceremony. Herbert G. Terry sang "God Make You Mine." As the strains of the wedding march were played twelve bridesmaids entered, six marching down either outside aisle of the church. Bobby Marlett and Marilyn Power, ring-bearers, preceded the bridal party, with the rings on satin pillows. They had ribbon streamers tied to their wrists, the ribbons forming an aisle for the bridal party.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Duane Richard Terry, who gave her in marriage.

Four bridesmaids marched into the church following the ring-bearers. The bridesmaids were members of Miss Terry's Sunday school class. They wore voile dresses in pastel shades with bandeaux of silver cloth in their hair and carried arm bouquets. They were: Misses Ruth Lane, Eleanor Harris, Alice McCabe, Myrl Kimmel, Winifred Hunt, Rebecca Brant, Ivy Cook, Ruth Lathrop, Helen Eyster, Virginia Burris, Marian Williams, Louise Jackel, Mary E. Campbell, Louise Hinze, Ethel Ware, Jeanette Yarborough and Virginia Horner.

Miss Lucille Campton of Occidental college was maid of honor. She wore a yellow crepe de chine dress and carried an arm bouquet of yellow rosebuds and lavender sweetpeas. Ross M. Schaffer of San Francisco served as best man.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the church. Just before Mr. and Mrs. Snyder left the church, the bride threw her bouquet, and it was caught by Miss Ruth Lathrop. A wedding supper was served at the Kopper Kettle tea room for the family, Miss Campton and Ross M. Schaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Edmonds and Dr. and Mrs. John Welborn, after the wedding. Besides Glendale people attending the wedding, there were guests present from Fillmore, Santa Monica, Long Beach, San Francisco, Victorville. Mrs. D. T. Bell, aunt of the bride, was present from Corvallis, Ore., and Mrs. J. L. Snyder, mother of Mr. Snyder, was present from Tacoma, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder left last night for New York, where they will attend a conference of the board of foreign missions, June 3 to June 14, after which they will return to Glendale, stopping at Washington, D. C., and Tacoma, Wash., and other points of interest en route west. Both young people are going as missionaries to China. Mrs. Snyder being sent by Glendale Presbyterian church. She is the only daughter of Mrs. M. H. Terry, parish worker of Glendale Presbyterian church, and is a graduate of Occidental college. Mr. Snyder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Snyder of Tacoma, and is a graduate of San Francisco seminary at San Anselmo.

PUBLIC SERVICE CREW WINS, 15-3

Christian Churchmen Make Four Hits In Third Frame; No More

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

The Public Service players had no trouble in overcoming the Christian church team in the Twilight league game yesterday at the Broadway High school grounds. After four innings of hectic playing, the Public Service men had crossed the rubber fifteen times, while the best the churchmen could do was to gather three runs.

Except for the third inning, when the churchmen pounced on the left-handed shoots of E. Camargo and slammed out four hits good for three runs, it was a case of three up and three down. Nicholson started the game for the Public Service crew and fanned the first five men to face him, also making the sixth out by catching Bates' popup. E. Camargo started to carry on with the strikeout business, but got no farther than Voorhis, who whiffed the air.

Wimmer hit the first one Camargo sent over, and went to second when Beaver booted his drive. Mercer hit to Heryford and was thrown out at first, while Wimmer romped down to third. Osier singled, scoring Wimmer, and then stole second. Bowers singled, scoring Osier. Thompson singled, scoring Bowers, but was later thrown out trying to steal second.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole played second base for the churchmen yesterday, and made one error, although he accepted four chances, scored two putouts and was pivot man in a double play, Bates to Cole to Wimmer. He made a big league stop of Nicholson's drive in the third, going up in the air after it.

L. Dotson took the mound for the Public Service team in the fourth inning, and held the churchmen hitless, although Bates reached first on Nicholson's error.

The game marked the end of the third week of play in the first round. The standings and the schedule for next week will appear on the sports page of The Glendale Evening News, official newspaper of the league, tomorrow.

SEES HONORS FOR COAST ATHLETICS

Southern California Track And Field Stars Have Chance To Cop Meet

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—With more than a vague suspicion of rain in the offing, the intercollegiate championship in track and field will be held on Franklin field this afternoon, and the odds were even that the eastern collegiate field would suffer a legal separation from its title for the fourth time in five years.

The pre-meet prospect was that either California or Southern California, or both, would come so close to winning the title that before nightfall tomorrow one might be able to measure the difference with the blade of a safety razor.

It will be a two-day occasion, with trials and heats of various events scheduled for this afternoon and the finals tomorrow. The track was fast.

Sunkist Stars

Southern California staked its chances on the performance of Clarence Houser in the shotput and discus. Houser is Olympic champion in both, and should contribute ten points to his team's total, unless he is stricken with housemaid's knee in the elbow or something. Dye, a hurdler, has done 14 7-10 and has only Moore of Pennsylvania to beat; Grumbles, Otto and Norman Anderson, White, Ross Niersbach, Torkelson, Lloyd, Heilman and Cook complete the Southern California squad, and all of them have more than a chance, or they wouldn't be here.

Boyd, winner over Bill Richardson in a 1:54 1-10 half mile, heads the Golden Bear squad, which is gifted in ability and profuse in number. Boyd will score in one of the sprints; so will Gainer in the pole vault, Dodson in the javelin and probably Hampton in the high jump. Other possibilities are Becker, hurdler; Johnson, quarter-miler, and Carey, discus.

Yale, the defending champion; Pennsylvania, Princeton, Harvard, Penn State and Georgetown are the best the east has to offer, and one of them may be enough. They not only have their coterie of stars, but the added advantage of acclimation.

XXXV—More Fruit Diets

Fruit Diet No. 3—Three meals daily of acid and sweet fruits. At each meal no more than one kind of acid fruit and one kind of sweet fruit should be taken, though the fruits can be changed at each or different meals: Peaches and dates, oranges and bananas, apples and dates, pears and bananas.

When eating these meals it is a good plan to combine the acid and sweet fruits—that is, to chew them together or mix them together about half and half, in order that one may get the flavor of both.

These fruits are more palatable when eaten in this manner, and one can usually enjoy more of them. For instance, the sweet fruits, such as dates, figs or raisins, are inclined to pall upon one, though when mixed with some acid fruit they will be far more appetizing and more may be eaten and digested.

Fruit Diet No. 4—Three meals daily of one or two kinds of acid fruit as desired, chopped up and sweetened with honey, to the extent of one's desires.

Fruit Diet No. 5—Acid fruits and sweet fruits chopped up fine, thoroughly mixed together, and then cream or olive oil added. Be careful not to add both cream and olive oil; either one or the other must be used. If one is not prejudiced against olive oil it will usually make a more satisfactory combination than the cream. Three meals daily, consisting solely of this combination, should be taken.

RADIOS DINE AND PLAN CAMPAIGN

Team Members Determined To Win Championship Of Twilight Loop

If enthusiasm will win ball games, then the members of the Radio team might just as well be considered champions of the Twilight league, judging by the amount of enthusiasm shown by the ball players at the dinner tendered the team last night at Blount's cafe, 136½ North Brand boulevard, by Charles T. Watts, manager of the team.

Between bites of fried chicken and everything that goes with the great American dish, the players discussed their possibilities in the great American game, suggested plans for improving team work vowed to appear regularly for batting and field practice, and began a campaign to win the championship of the Twilight league.

Plans for entering the team in the Southern California Baseball Managers' association were discussed. Manager Watts announced that when the team acquired uniforms and a little more practice, he would make application to join the association. In the meantime, he said, games with teams other than Twilight league teams will be arranged, providing dates can be secured which do not conflict with the Twilight league schedule.

LOCAL NET STARS COP 2 MATCHES

Boys Win at South Pasadena And Girls Are Victorious On Home Courts

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

By barely nosing out South Pasadena on their own courts, the Glendale tennis team under the leadership of Wayne Maxwell, captain and first man, practically assured itself of second place in the league yesterday when the Dynamiters won, 9-8. Outside of their defeat by the Moors last Thursday this match has provided the most trouble for the local netmen this season. They have yet to play Citrus and Covina, neither of which could be rated as formidable opponents.

On the home courts the girls' strong net outfit grasped the Central league banner for girls' tennis tighter by giving the "Tigresses" a merry reception, 10-7.

The way matters began for Glendale the hopes were none too high. Marguerite Anderson and Naida Taylor were conquered in the second doubles, 6-3, 6-2. Alice Mercer dropped the fourth singles, 10-8, 6-4, and Virginia Clark lost the second single after three sets of court battling, 6-8, 6-4, 6-3. Jeanette Zeitlin came through with a well-earned victory over her third singles opponent in a drawn out match, [illegible]-8, 6-3. With the score standing 7-2 in South Pasadena's favor, Mary Barbara Taylor added four digits when she walked all over the Tigress ace, 6-0, 6-1. The first singles team composed of Wilma Hoyt and Ruth McCabe, won the match when they ran through two sets for a 6-3, 6-1 victory.

HITTING BARRAGE

Luque allowed only three hits through the first six innings and then—presto chango, smack, help. The Cubs got twelve runs in the seventh and beat the Reds 13 to 3.

DEFEAT INDIANS

Karr lost his first game in six starts when the Browns got to him in the second and third innings and beat the Indians 4 to 3.

Free Dinner For Winners In Ball Loop

Players in the Twilight league will grip their bats more firmly, and make sure of all catches when in the field, following the announcement made today by C. A. Blount, proprietor of Blount's Cafe, 136½ North Brand boulevard, that he will give a dinner to the members of the championship team, their wives or sweethearts. According to present plans, the dinner will be held at Blount's cafe as soon as the championship is decided in the post-season game in August.

BERLENBACH AND M'TIGUE READY

Light Heavyweight Crown at Stake In Bout Tonight At Yankee Stadium

By GEORGE E. DURNO
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A wily, clever boxer against a rock-rushing slugger! Ever since David licked Goliath the experts have differed violently in a case of this kind and today proved no exception. Seldom have the critics been more markedly at variance than they were today over Paul Berlenbach's chances of lifting the light heavyweight crown from Mike McTigue in their fifteen-round battle in the Yankee stadium tonight.

Mike is the clever one. There are plenty who say that Mike is champion today because he is clever and not because he is a fighter, and it is this school of thought that has established the challenger as a favorite to win. It is one of the few times in recent pugilistic history that a challenger has entered the ring a favorite over the champion.

But Berlenbach's margin of favoritism was not large, despite his popularity and Mike's unpopularity with the Gotham boxing public. Ten to nine, and six to five does not indicate any overwhelming favoritism, and there was plenty of money along Broadway that McTigue's admittedly superior cleverness would keep him out of harm's way for 15 rounds. The McTigue backers are basing their hopes on a verdict for the champion on points.

Capacity House

Indications today pointed to a capacity house. The show is for the milk fund benefit, insuring the presence not only of the ordinary fight crowd but of society folks generally.

Tex Rickard, who is promoting the show, announced today the advance sale already has passed the $125,000 mark, and, with the last-minute scramble that always develops for seats, the affair is expected to gross around $200,000.

Berlenbach's popularity is based almost entirely upon his slugging proclivities. In the twenty-seven bouts he has engaged in since entering the fight game he has scored twenty-five knockouts, and some of them were what Broadway calls "tough babies."

SPLIT DOUBLE BILL

The Yanks and Red Sox shared the spoils of a double header, Quinn pitching his old friends into submission in the first, 3 to 1, while the Yanks replied by mangling Francis, an ex-playmate, in the second game, 7 to 2.

RECORD HOME RUN

Synder's record homer, which fell in an open box car and rode into the great unknown, staked the Giants to an 8 to 6 decision over the Braves, their only victory of the series.

ATHLETICS WIN TWO

The Athletics came back like a carrier pigeon by taking two from the Senators, 11 to 3 and 9 to 4, Zachary, Gregg and Johnson passing painlessly from view.

To relieve the housing shortage in Spain the government will aid an extensive program for building cheap dwellings.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

NEW YORK, May 29.—Now that Rabbit Maranville is gradually getting his injured leg where it will stand the strain of ball playing, there may be a better opportunity to ascertain which club got the better of the celebrated trade between Pittsburgh and Chicago last winter.

It's astonishing how many people are still talking about that trade. A lot of Pittsburgh pessimists insist that it was a bad move on the part of Dreyfuss, who never has been noted for his good luck in trades, while a section of Chicago fandom still contends that Chicago got the worst of it—especially since Maranville broke his leg.

The Cubs haven't been going very well recently, although they started well enough for a championship outfit. When it comes to sizing up the trade from the standpoint of games between Chicago and Pittsburgh themselves, the Cubs had all the better of it at the start, for with their crippled team they jumped all over the Pirates. In fact but for Pittsburgh, Chicago would be in the gloaming up to its neck, for Pittsburgh is about the only team the Cubs have been able to thrash.

But the Cubs have made such a terrible showing against the other clubs that any good which may have arisen out of beating the Pirates is more than offset.

The Cubs have had a mighty hard time of it, with Maranville and Grigsby out from the start of the season, and with Friberg's performance at third hampered by the leg he injured last year. Even out in California during spring training Friberg walked light on his bad side but it wasn't realized the injury would hang on so.

Of course, it is easy enough to see now that Chicago shoud have made preparations then to get another third baseman but they put it off, thinking he would come around and so they got Freigau from St. Louis, to try at third. Rickey meant to put Freigau at third when the season began, but eventually sent him to snort and put Bell at third. Then, not satisfied with Freigau, he tried Thevenow and Cooney and then put Freigau back again, and has Rogers Hornsby in reserve.

Grimm held up his share of the trade and has been an inspiration to the Cubs. Cooper has been a flat failure, just as three big league managers predicted.

They contended he would never do on the Chicago ground with its short fences, because he likes to pitch the ball to be hit, and he must have an outfield in which there is plenty of room to field the ball.

It has been about 50-50 on the pitching part of the deal, because Aldridge has not done too well for Pittsburgh since he was sent there by the Cubs as part of the deal. Aldridge, who is one of those short sighted pitchers who will not report in time for spring practice, simply handicapped himself and his team that much and if he doesn't get going, he will not hold out very well in the major league company.

The real benefit derived by Pittsburgh from the trade was the acquisition of Grantham, who has proved fairly successful as a first base substitute, while Niehaus has had a charley horse. Pittsburgh won eight games in the east against three for the Cubs and on the whole the Pirates have yet to be shown as having got the little end of the famous trade.

If you want a place to raise fur-bearing rabbits, chickens or pigeons this place will suit you. There are few places like this left in Glendale.

I HAVE SPENT THE PAST WEEK securing acreage for sale in the San Fernando valley. I have found three pieces of 5, 10 and 60 acres in the frostless section, fine orange and lemon groves adjoining. Priced at the low figure of $1000 per acre, with the present development of the valley, values should double in the next year. Now is the time to get located before the rise in prices. Let me show you these and others.

2 ACRES HIGHLY DEVELOPED, corner of beautiful Sherman Way and Los Angeles car line. Six-room modern stucco house. Also a good 4-room house, garage, equipment for 2000 hens, brooder house, complete, full bearing trees, shrubs and flowers. Good income. Owner too old to care for place. Will make a very attractive price or will take exchange, most any desirable location. It will pay you to look at this property.

Mrs. Montgomery Said

"Oh, what a beautiful outlook," as she stood on the front porch of a stucco bungalow we offered at $6750 on easy terms. And she was equally as pleased with the interior arrangement, the five large rooms, the good taste shown in the decorations, and when she raved about the corner breakfast room with its many windows, we knew the sale was as good as made. When Mr. Montgomery came out to O. K. her selection we had to satisfy him as to location and value. It was easy. The close-in northwest with all its building activity, the proximity to the park with its tennis courts and pool, the short distance to transportation and the certainty of greater future value did the trick. Now, best of all, we have another waiting for you to move right into. Call us at once—let us have the pleasure of settling your home hunting troubles.

Positively No Exaggeration

After inspecting this property, if you don't agree that it is the biggest steal in a high class home ever offered, I will be greatly mistaken.

It is a 7-room, 2 story stucco bungalow, built by one of Glendale's most active contractors and the finest materials is used throughout, such as solid mahogany trim, tile work, automatic heaters, ornamental iron work, ½ inch oak floors, etc. But the beauty of design and perfect arrangement of the rooms, together with the marvelous east front view from the upper deck over the entire city of Glendale make it a home that will appeal to your finest feelings for home ownership. The rooms are all extremely large, light and airy.

Now to the point: For good and sufficient reasons this $15,000 property will be delivered up to Sunday night for $10,500 with only $2000 down. If not sold by then the price will be raised to its actual value and other arrangements will be made to tide over present needs.

VACANT LOTS AND ACRES

One 62
FOOT LOT LEFT

It is worth better than $3000—based upon any comparison—but our price—for IMMEDIATE SALE—is

Only $1850
$500 CASH

Two years to pay the balance. This and three others, not such good buys but BETTER THAN ANYTHING ELSE IN MILES, are all that are left of the sightliest subdivision of high class home sites in Glendale. Owners wish to close them out and wind up the trust at once. It is an opportunity to secure the sort of a bargain that can scarcely ever be possible again under any conditions. 50-ft. lots—which this big lot entirely overlooks—are being held at, and BEING SOLD, at many hundreds of dollars higher prices. We have one 50-ft. lot at $1500; the nearest duplicate is $2350. There is one—JUST ONE—with an average width of 77x184 feet. This was originally priced at $4000—and cannot be equaled at that price—but we'll sell now at $2750, on easy terms.

These beautiful home sites are located on that sightly slope, three blocks beyond the Brand home on Mountain avenue, and nearly opposite the entrance to the proposed Brand park. No finer view ANYPLACE, and at these prices it's like buying silver dollars for fifty and sixty cents, on easy terms.

ATWATER RESIDENTS LISTEN TO WARDLAW

Torchlight Parade, Campaign Addresses Boosting Councilmanic Candidate, Feature Meetings Last Night

Approximately 2,000 persons gathered at various locations throughout the Atwater and Ivanhoe Hills districts last night to hear speakers for Charlie T. Wardlaw who accompanied the Wardlaw-for-Council caravan that paraded the southern part of the first district with bands and flaring torch lights, in behalf of Mr. Wardlaw's candidacy.

Bob Hanley, Los Angeles attorney, praised Mr. Wardlaw for his ability and success as a business man and for his ability to become the servant of the whole district, not catering to any one section of it.

"Mr. Wardlaw has been the most lied about candidate whose name has appeared on a Los Angeles election ballot in many years," Hanley declared in denying charges that his candidate was affiliated with any particular newspaper interests in Los Angeles or that he stood opposed to development of Los Angeles water supplies.

When questioned regarding Mr. Wardlaw's stand on Union labor, Hanley brought out the fact that Mr. Wardlaw was at one time vice-president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers in the United States and that he has carried a union card for eighteen years.

Tonight Mr. Wardlaw will speak at the Clifford street school before what is expected to be one of the largest audiences that he has appeared before during the present campaign. All voters of the Atwater district were urged by campaign managers to hear Mr. Wardlaw tonight.

Wedding At Anaheim

The wedding of Miss Kathleen Walshe, of 3460 Perlita avenue, and Henry Aplin, of Sacramento, was solemnized Thursday, May 28, 1925, at 12 o'clock, by Rev. Walker, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reeks of Anaheim. An interesting feature of the wedding was the fact that the ceremony was performed under a walnut tree in the yard of the Reeks home. An American flag formed a canopy for the bridal party and flowers and ferns were other decorations.

The bride wore a dove grey crepe de chine dress and carried a bride's bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses. She was given in marriage by her nephew, Frank Walshe, of Inglewood. Mrs. Duchaine, of Glendale, served as matron of honor. She wore a filet lace dress over a canary silk and carried a bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses. George W. Reeks acted as best man. Dorothy Schmidt was flower girl.

Music preceding the ceremony was "Kathleen Mauvorneen" and "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," played by Mrs. Theo. Reeves of Glendale at the piano and Fred Schmidt on the violin. They also played Mendelssohn's wedding march, to the strains of which the bridal party marched in for the ceremony.

Attending the wedding from Glendale were: Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Reeves, and Mrs. Pomplin, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Gardner. Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Jacobsmeyer attended from the Atwater district, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walshe were from Inglewood. Twenty-five friends from Anaheim were present also.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served for the wedding guests. Mr. and Mrs. Aplin left for Sacramento where they will make their home. Mrs. Aplin is well known in the Atwater district where she resided with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lon Gardner. She came from Dublin, Ireland. Mr. Aplin is a retired business man and came to Sacramento from England, thirty years ago.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

It may be unfair to say that the public will applaud the court's decision declaring illegal the E. L. Doheny leases in the Elk Hills naval reserve of California and cancelling the contracts with Mr. Doheny for the construction of naval fuel oil storage at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, but it is satisfying to know that the federal court is no respecter of persons, as one would be inclined to think from several performances in the prosecution of Fall-Sinclair-Doheny trials.

The public should not exult over the fact that the Doheny deal has fallen through, for it may be that the United States eventually will be the loser in the transaction. There are many things illegally done, so to speak, without a thought.

It has been the practice of big business to influence officialdom. Some very raw methods have been employed, by the way, in the not far distant past, and not as many miles away as Washington, either.

Simply because it is customary for those who have to control situations is no reason for officials to acquiesce unless they seek the opprobrium which has befallen those involved in the interior department's oil scandal.

Seven men so unfortunate as to be caught gambling in Burbank must face trial in police court. The several hundred investors in the "ten to one" rail merger, who likely have kissed their money goodbye, also gambled, but the law seems to sympathize with them. There is something inconsistent in that. Seriously speaking, it is a funny world.

There is joy in living, you would think, to hear the tradespeople planning their two days' holiday with Memorial day coming on Saturday. They are eager to get to the mountains, or the seashore, which are so accessible to Glendale.

Of course there is joy in living, if you look for it. Also there are the dark corners in life's pathways, which are to be avoided. It's a fact that you can't stay out in the sunshine, in the great out-of-doors, and be unhappy.

Just a little hint to the motorist. Thousands of visitors will try to get around the downtown section of Los Angeles this coming week. The streets already are jammed. If you can avoid taking your motor car into the congested area you will help the police a great deal in moving traffic.

It is possible to get within close proximity of the parades, or to get around the traffic jams, if you stop and think a minute before going into the city. And the time you will save will more than reward you for the co-operation. Incidentally, spread the good word among your friends to park cars away from the downtown section and do not invade the district bounded by Hill street on the west, Third street on the north, Tenth street on the south and Main street on the east, unless it is absolutely necessary, during Shrine week.

Juvenile Music Club Meeting Is Postponed

Mrs. C. L. Marlenee, chairman of the juvenile department of Glendale Music club announces that no meeting of the department will be held tomorrow afternoon as the Van Grove salon on North Brand boulevard will be closed. The date of the next meeting will be announced later.

TWO LOCATIONS FOR USED CARS

Jesse E. Smith Co. Expands In Extending Service To Motorists

Always giving the Glendale auto-buying public the ultimate in service, the Jesse E. Smith Co., of 115 West Colorado boulevard, announces that used cars can now be had at two convenient locations, which afford the same service which this Ford agency has been noted for. The two used car locations are at 115 West Colorado boulevard and at the corner of Glendale avenue and Colorado boulevard.

Together with this service addition comes the announcement that Ford cars can now be bought from the Jesse E. Smith Co. at the lowest terms ever offered to Glendale people, according to the used car department.

Jesse E. Smith is enthusiastic over Ford sales made since the first of the year. He has been at the head of Glendale's oldest Ford agency since 1915, taking over the agency at that time from Harry Hall. On account of the length of time he has been along auto row in Glendale, products bought from his organization are backed with the maximum service at all times.

Isabella Pope Ready To Tell Own Story

She stood by her sweetheart's side as his life was slowly fleeting. It is she who holds in her heart and mind his real thoughts and feelings toward the Shepherds.

From the witness stand she may reveal this confidence in the face of heartless attacks from opposing attorneys. It will be youth and beauty and sympathy matched against direct attacks from counsel for the defense.

Jurymen are sympathetic even when bantered by legal automatons, and when did youth and beauty and unaffected simplicity fail to win sympathy from the side of cynicism and sophistication?

Still the sinister cloud of tragedy lowers as the mills of justice grind slowly.
